Laundry Packet Safety

(Information from www.safekids.org)

Young children are explorers, and as they develop, they learn by touch and by putting things into their mouths. Liquid laundry detergent packets are designed to dissolve in water. When they come in contact with wet hands or mouths, they start to dissolve and release the concentrated liquid.

Hard Facts about Laundry Packets

In 2017, there were 10,585 calls to poison centers related to laundry packet incidents involving young children – more than one every hour. That's a decrease of 19% in the number of annual cases, since the peak in 2015.

Top Tips about Laundry Packet Safety

- Keep liquid packets out of children's reach and sight.
- Keep packets in their original container and keep the container closed.
- If a child gets into liquid laundry packets, call the Poison Control Help Line immediately:
